

Give your immune system a healthy boost

There's a lot of uncertainty in the world right now, but there are some simple actions you can take to stay healthy and stress-free.

One of them is boosting your immune system this season with the same, safe protection that health care workers trust – the flu shot.

Whether or not you're a Kaiser Permanente member, we invite you to join us at a no-cost flu shot clinic, listed on the back of this flyer. All are welcome, so bring your family and friends with you!

Your life matters, and the flu shot is the safest way to stay healthy this season. For more information, or other locations near you, visit kp.org/flu.
